Charlottesville-Albemarle SPCA Waives Fees to Send Pets Home for the Holidays

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA (December 16, 2022) — The Charlottesville-Albemarle SPCA is waiving adoption fees for adult dogs and cats during the “Home for the Holidays” adoption event December 16-31. The SPCA currently has nearly 300 animals available for adoption in their care. The goal of the event is to place as many of those pets into loving homes for the holidays.

“We have so many amazing animals in our care that are deserving of a place to call home,” said Angie Gunter, Chief Executive Officer of the Charlottesville-Albemarle SPCA. “At a time when our kennels are full, we’re hoping this event encourages people to visit the shelter and give a homeless animal in need the greatest gift of all which is a family to love.”

All animals included in the promotion will be microchipped, spayed or neutered, and up-to-date on vaccines (some animals may be excluded.) All potential adopters will be thoroughly screened during the application process. The shelter is open for adoptions every day from 12-6 PM. No appointment is necessary.
