Charlottesville-Albemarle SPCA to Hold its Annual Rabies Vaccine Clinic this Sunday

Charlottesville, Virginia - On Sunday October 2nd, from 11am to 3pm, the Charlottesville-Albemarle SPCA is holding its annual low-cost Rabies Vaccine Clinic to celebrate World Rabies Day. Pet owners can have their pet(s) vaccinated at the SPCA on Sunday for just $10.00 per pet. Virginia state law requires all dogs and cats over the age of four months to be vaccinated against rabies.

The SPCA reminds the public that keeping your pets' immunizations up-to-date is the best way to protect yourself and your family from the rabies virus. Event organizer Beth McPhee, the SPCA's Business Manager, notes that the Rabies Clinic "is just another of the many ways the SPCA reaches out to help the community care for their pets. Especially in this economy, the rabies clinic and the SPCA's low-cost spay/neuter program are an important community service" Affordable Spay/Neuter appointments will also be available through the Charlottesville-Albemarle SPCA.

The Charlottesville-Albemarle SPCA is a nonprofit animal welfare organization that provides a safe environment for the lost, abandoned, and homeless animals of Charlottesville and Albemarle County, and places them in good homes. We strive to set a standard of excellence and leadership in animal care, humane education, and progressive animal welfare programs.
